Searching for Studies and Submissions

Click on the Studies or Submissions tab to search for a specific study or submission.

Select a filter from the drop-down list in the search box.

The filter will display another drop-down menu items to select.

The study or submission you're looking for should show up in the results.

Missing Studies or Submissions

If you are unable to find a study or submission, it may mean that your role has been updated or you have been removed from the research team. The key study personnel (PI, Co-PI, or Faculty Sponsor) or the Primary Contact must re-add you to the submission in order for you to regain access. They can do this by updating the Initial submission if the study is pending approval or submitting a Modification submission once the study has been approved.
